BG Posts Outstanding Decade

Bowling Green State University's football team, during the current decade, has posted a won-lost record that ranks it second among the 113 major college grid teams in the country.

In the past eight years of action, the Falcons have recorded a 59-15-1 mark for an excellent .793 percentage. This leaves Bowling Green behind only Alabama that has come up with a 71-6-3 record during the 1960-67 era.

Bowling Green has run up some outstanding marks during these eight seasons. The 1964 team was 9-1 while the 1960 squad finished at 8-1. The 1967 unit had the decades's poorest record, 6-4.

In the Mid-American Conference, the Falcons haven't exactly been standing still as they have rolled to four league crowns in eight seasons. Bowling Green's 1961, 1962, 1964 and 1965 teams either won or tied for the MAC title.

A look at the other teams in the conference shows Miami ranked in 23rd place with Ohio and Western Michigan ranked 43rd and 54th respectively. Kent State, Toledo and Marshall are now holding down the 87th, 95th, 97th spots.

This decade, the Falcons have compiled the second best record in the nation but Bowling Green's fine record actually stretches through 13 seasons. Bowling Green has now rolled to 13 straight winning years on the gridiron.

During this winning streak, the Falcons have compiled a record of 96-20-5 under coaches Doyt Perry and Bob Gibson. These 13 seasons have helped Bowling Green to an overall record of 233-124-42 in its first 49 years of football action.

New coach Don Nehlen is hoping to continue the winning tradition as the Falcons step into their 50th year of play.

Homecoming: Bowling Green vs. Kent

Joe Green
Trouble for Kent State

"Kent State University has the best 0-5 team in the nation," Bowling Green State University's football coach Don Nehlen stated before today's game.

Now, to the many fans who follow Mid-American Conference football, this statement might not come as exactly a news flash but it does show that Bowling Green holds Kent's Golden Flashes in high regard.

Bowling Green should be showing plenty of regard for the Golden Flashes because over the years, Kent has made the going plenty tough on the gridiron for the Falcons.

Take homecoming for example, the Falcons have played 46 football contests in front of the returning alumni and they have a 26-11-9 record. However, against Kent State in homecoming battles, the Falcons are just 5-5-1.

Kent is Bowling Green's oldest rival as the two schools have met 36 times on the football field with BGSU holding a 20-10-6 record. Bowling Green has won two of the last three contests by 7-6 margins while Kent was busy rolling to a 35-12 victory in 1966.

Just for the record, that was Bowling Green's homecoming battle in 1966. Last season, it was Toledo University's opportunity to turn the Falcons homecoming into a shambles and the Rockets did just that by a 33-0 count. So, the Falcons have dropped two straight homecoming encounters.

Today, the Falcons go against winless Kent State at Doyt L. Perry Field in a contest that is important for both schools. From the Falcons standpoint, the game is important because it's their homecoming encounter and they need a win to keep their MAC title hopes alive.

For Kent's Golden Flashes, who are in the basement in the conference, it is another opportunity to break their winless streak.

"The thing that concerns me most is, how do we score on Kent State?" Nehlen stated. "Kent has a big, veteran defensive platoon but we are going to go with what we have been doing all year and just try and do it better."

Quarterback P. J. Nyitray, who is one of the keys to the Falcon offense, is off to one of his best starts with the Falcons. In four games, he has completed 48 of 89 passes for 538 yards and two touchdowns.

Last Saturday, against Toledo, Nyitray established his sixth Bowling Green record as he set the Falcons career passing mark with 1815 yards to ease past the record of 1,735 yards set by Jerry Ward from 1962-64.

He also upped the record of most passes attempted in a game as he took to the air 32 times against Toledo to surpass his old mark by seven.

A seventh record of 915 yards passing in a season set in 1952 by Bill Lyons also seems well within Nyitray's range at the present time. That would leave just two marks, most yardage in a game and most passes completed in a contest still in the books.

However, Nyitray might well have his hands full of problems today unless the Falcons injury situation improves. Starting offensive tackle Carl Battershell missed most of the Toledo game along with starting defensive end and tackle John Szychowski and Dave Roese.

All three players were on the questionable list as the Falcons headed into their early week drills.

BGSU's Band Performs "Big Top" Show

Bowling Green State University's halftime show figures to be a real "circus" today as BGSU's 120-piece marching band performs a show entitled "Bowling Green's Big Top".

The band will open its show by marching down the field in the form of a triangle and playing "Circus on Parade". The band, under the direction of Mark Kelly, will then form a clown and play "Put on a Happy Face".

Then, the circus really swings into high gear as the three traditional circus rings are formed with three numbers, "Thunder and Blazes", "Over the Waves" and "Beautiful Girl" taking care of the musical end.

While the band is playing these three numbers, the ring on the north end of the field will feature Bowling Green's Gymnastic Club in an exhibition. Under the direction of John White, six gymnasts, Rick Meeker, Ed Brown, Steve Maltby, Dave Weilnau, Rick Conrad and Ron Reaach, will be performing.

At the same time, the south ring will feature twirlers, Beverly Staat, Pat Frohman and Susan Reese, while Becky Quick, who has been Bowling Green's featured twirler for four years, will be in the center ring.

All in all, this segment of the show should add up to a truly fine "circus" performance.

For its last formation of the show, the band will take on the old carnival trick of shooting a man out of a cannon. To go along with this stunt, the band will be playing "It's Magic".

Before leaving the field, the band will have a drill routine, playing "Barnum and Bailey's Favorites" by Karl King, a native Ohioan who was once the bandmaster of the Ringling Brothers circus.

Bowling Green's band will also perform during the pregame show. The band will march down the field playing Bowling Green's Fight Song then drill to "Football Hero" before forming a Kent and playing the Kent State University Fight Song.

After the presentation of Bowling Green's 1968 homecoming queen and her court, the band will play Bowling Green's Alma Mater before the National Anthem is directed by Kent State's Acting Director of Bands Richard Jacoby.

As has been the tradition in the past, Bowling Green's marching band will also put on a post-game show for those fans who would rather sit and watch than fight the crowd leaving the game.

Falcon Coach Don Nehlen

Nehlen, BGSU's 11th Head Coach

Don Nehlen, Bowling Green State University's defensive coordinator for the past three seasons, was named as Falcons' head football coach, after the 1967 season.

Nehlen, who quarterbacked Bowling Green's Falcons from 1955 through 1957 and landed a second team All Mid-American Conference berth during his senior year, replaces Bob Gibson who marked up a 19-9 record in three seasons at Bowling Green.

In discussing his appointment, Nehlen said, "I am tremendously pleased and honored to be given this opportunity and I hope I can continue the fine football tradition at Bowling Green State University."

During his years as a player at Bowling Green, Nehlen played under Bowling Green's current Athletic Director Doyt L. Perry. Perry said, "Nehlen was a quarterback on my first team at Bowling Green. His enthusiasm, spirit and energy were contagious at that time and they have continued throughout his coaching career. I am confident that Don will make a fine football coach for Bowling Green."

Nehlen is Bowling Green's 11th head football coach in the Falcons' 50-year intercollegiate history. He is only the second, Doyt Perry being the first, Bowling Green player to return to his alma mater as head coach.

As Bowling Green's defensive coach, Nehlen established a fine record. In three seasons, his defensive squads yielded only 361 points in 28 games for an average of slightly under 13 points a game. His teams recorded six shutouts.

In his three seasons as Bowling Green's signal caller, Nehlen took to the air 163 times and completed 80 for 1,173 yards and 11 touchdowns. He also scored six touchdowns for a total of 36 points while rushing 132 times for 271 yards.

During his entire coaching career, Nehlen has had nothing but success. After graduating from Bowling Green in June of 1958, Nehlen became the reserve football coach at Mansfield Senior High School.

From 1959-1962, Nehlen was the head football coach at Canton South High School where his teams recorded a 24-11-2 record. Nehlen won two titles and tied for another in the Stark County Class AA League in four years.

In 1963, Nehlen was at the University of Cincinnati as backfield coach. In 1964, he returned to the high school ranks as the head coach at Canton McKinley High School. That year, his squad compiled a 9-1 record and finished second in the state. His overall high school record was 33-12-2 and his team won 24 of their last 27 games.

Nehlen graduated from Canton Lincoln High School in 1954 where he lettered for two years as a quarterback and landed All-City and All-County honors. He also earned a total of seven letters in basketball and baseball and was voted as the Outstanding Athlete in Lincoln's 1954 graduating class.

Nehlen, age 32, received his Bachelor of Science in Education degree from Bowling Green in 1958 and then earned a Masters Degree at Kent State University in 1965.

He married the former Merry Ann Chopson in 1958 and has two children, Danny and Vicky.

Bowling Green's New Firelands

The Firelands Campus Director Dr. James McBride is shown standing in front of one of the center's new buildings, located five miles east of Sandusky near Huron.

Seven hundred students made history September 25, when they walked through the doors of the new Firelands Campus of Bowling Green State University.

The $3 million, two-building complex, located five miles east of Sandusky near Huron, is the first permanent campus branch in northwest Ohio.

With construction about 98 percent completed, the ringing of hammers and zang of saws will probably be heard during the early weeks of school. But that's not expected to dampen the spirits of students, university officials and residents of Huron, Erie and Ottawa Counties who have long been awaiting this red letter day.

For students, it was the first time they attended college classes in a building of their own.

For Bowling Green, it marked the opening of its first permanent off-campus center which will offer daytime as well as evening classes.

For tri-county residents, it meant the realization of a long-anticipated dream come true because of their hard-earned dollars.

Campus activities began Friday, Sept. 13, when the Firelands Advisory Board held its annual meeting in the new buildings. On Sunday, Sept. 15, Bowling Green alumni were given a preview peek of the new facilities. The first student orientation session and mixer was held Wednesday night, Sept. 18.

Although all facilities are expected to be open nearly immediately, dedication plans are indefinite awaiting final construction approval of the buildings by University officials.

A total of 700 students, mostly freshmen and sophomores, are enrolled in 48 different courses being offered this quarter. This compares with the 650 students who selected from 41 courses offered last year in late afternoon and evening classes at Sandusky High School.

According to Dr. James McBride, director, the new campus has resulted in a notable expansion of course offerings. Firelands now provides facilities for freshman and sophomore girls going into home economics. Laboratory space has permitted expansion in the science departments.

All classes will be held in the three-story West Building containing 28 classrooms and laboratories, 30 faculty offices, a faculty lounge, student lockers and an audio-visual center.

The second floor of the two-story East Building is entirely devoted to a library which will open with 4,000 volumes. The first floor houses the administrative offices, student lounge, bookstore, snack center and dispensary.

The two air-conditioned, red brick buildings are designed in modern motif and connected by a wide concrete and brick walk. The blacktopped parking lot is expected to handle 500 automobiles.

Completion of the buildings represents a culmination of four years of study, planning and hard work by area residents and university officials.

It's been four years since a state study pointed out the need for a college-level

Campus Opens With 700 Students

learning institution in northwest Ohio.

It's been two-and-a-half years since tri-countians shocked fund raisers and state and university officials by raising $1.2 million—double the amount needed to establish the local campus branch.

After hearing the state recommendation for an institution of higher learning, a group of local educators and businessmen got together and established the Committee On Educational Development—better known as COED.

From this point forward, COED carried the ball and took charge of a fund raising drive many persons believed to be impossible. It's goal was to raise $600,000 in six weeks. The money was needed to make the area eligible for a $1.8 million state allocation.

What happened left everyone agog.

When final figures were tabulated, it was learned $1.2 million had been raised.

Professional fund raisers, called in to help with the campaign, left Sandusky thinking about rewriting their manuals.

They had advised campaign officials to concentrate on large gifts because of lack of time.

Surprisingly enough, however, the success story was realized through the numerous small contributions. School children began bringing in their piggy bank savings and grandmothers donated $1 for each grandchild.

The necessary money was raised in February 1966. After four months of deliberation, COED came up with a quiet, 216-acre plot of farmland for the college campus site.

Shortly after the site selection, Dr. McBride, a former superintendent in the Norwalk and Amherst School Systems, was hired as director. Presently Dr. McBride is being assisted by James Ross, director of student services. The librarian is Miss Janet Stephenson.

Fifteen full-time instructors and 30 part-time University instructors will staff classes.

Top brass including Gov. James A. Rhodes turned out for the groundbreaking on July 10, 1967. From that point on, the challenge of opening the school in September 1968 was placed in the hands of Mosser Construction, Inc., Fremont, general contractor for the project.

What does the future hold for the Firelands?

According to Dr. McBride, enrollment is expected to reach 1,000 by 1970 and 1,400 by 1972.

"Any building expansion depends on the state," the director said.

An activities center housing a gymnasium, auditorium and food services area is presently being contemplated. Dr. McBride hopes this may be realized within five years.

The master plan calls for a peanut-shaped "ring road" surrounding the exterior of the campus with a cultural center and stadium to be included with the "ring".

These plans, however, are in the distant future and are not being considered immediately, he stated.

How you can "join" America's Olympic Team

You can be there at the Mexico City Olympic Games as a welcome contributor to the Olympic Fund. And be proud of it!

Training, transportation, housing and equipping America's top competitors in the Olympic Games is a major financial task. Because the United States Team is maintained almost entirely by public subscription, without government subsidy of any sort, the interest and support of every American is needed to reach the $3,500,000 goal.

If you haven't already done so, "join" in the Olympic movement now. Fill out the attached coupon, with your check for $5.00 or more and mail — today. In acknowledgment, the United States Olympic Committee will send you the handsome men's tie bar (by Danté) illustrated below. Or, if you prefer, you may select a women's bar pin with safety catch of the same design. For a $10.00 contribution, you will receive two gifts of your choice.

Homecoming Battle, A Day Of Excitement

By Dave Carr
Sports Director, WFOB Radio

How do you describe it? Sentimental? Exhilarating? Memory Producing? Exciting? It's all of this and more. It's Homecoming.

It had been building all week, on the campus and in town, this feeling. As the week grew older, the tension grew higher. By Friday, things were ready to happen. A few Alums, imbued once again with the old college spirit, had been trickling into town early to recapture the essence of days gone by. Hometown graduates played host to some old chums while others gathered at near-by motels to toast fond memories. Then the short night wait for the big day.

It dawns brightly on the small midwestern town. The air is crisp and cool, just perfect for the game. A day that quickens the pulse, makes the blood race. Those true fans of the game and the casual observer, too, now come pouring into town and onto the campus, hardly able to wait. It may not be the big game of the season, but it will suffice until the real thing comes along. It's Homecoming.

Inside the dressing room, quiet prevails. Each player is deep in thought, searching for a motive to perform. Then the light. It's Homecoming.

The fans are impatient. They want action. And now the teams come out on the field. The crowd, exhorted by the cheerleaders, jumps to its feet. A wild cheer echoes across the field. The kickoff, and that unexplainable feeling grips one and all. It's Homecoming.

Since playing to a 6-6 tie with the University of Toledo back on that first Homecoming Day, November 4th, 1922, Bowling Green State University has performed well on this special day. The Falcons have won 26, lost 11, and tied 9 games against 20 different Homecoming opponents.

However, Bowling Green has only been able to break even in Homecoming contests against today's opponent, Kent State University, each team winning five times while there has been one tie.

Kent first appeared as Bowling Green's Homecoming foe on November 5th, 1938, when the Golden Flashes won 7-3. The Flashes, who have been BG's most frequent competitor on Homecoming Day, won the second encounter here, also, prevailing 7-0 on October 31st, 1942. Bowling Green won the next two games 21-18 and 27-6 in 1947 and 1949 before the two teams played to a 27-27 deadlock in 1951. Kent State won the following two meetings, 41-7 in 1953 and 8-7 in a thrilling game in 1958.

Bowling Green found the winning formula in the next three Homecomings, shutting out Kent 28-0 in 1960, trouncing the Flashes 45-6 in 1962 and again blanking the Northeastern Ohio crew 41-0 in 1964. Kent State won the last Bowling Green Homecoming encounter between the two teams, gaining a measure of revenge with a 35-12 shellacking of the local forces.

The Falcons would like to get a little revenge of their own in today's game.

What will happen today? Because of their fine record of 3-0-1, the Falcons are favored over the winless Flashes. The crowd will be friendly. The spirit in the air will be with the Falcons. A Bowling Green victory would be the perfect ending because . . . it's Homecoming!

1968 Rule Changes

Believing that the average football fan wants to know more about the rules of the game so he can better understand and appreciate the play, we are listing below the most significant football rule changes for the 1968 season.

1. The time-out period has been reduced from 2 minutes to 1½ minutes.
2. The game clock will be stopped on all first downs and will be started when the play is ready.
3. An offensive interior lineman (tackle to tackle) may not move once he has taken a position with his hand(s) on or near the ground. (Penalty—5 yards)
4. The numbering of the players as required by rule will assist the spectator to easily identify players by position and to assist them in knowing eligible and ineligible pass receivers. The offensive team must have five interior linemen (numbered between 50 and 79) on the line of scrimmage. These numbered players are ineligible to receive a pass regardless of the position they take prior to the snap.
5. Offensive interior linemen on scrimmage kicks (punts) may go down field on the snap of the ball. This year they do not have to wait until the ball is kicked.
6. Once a player gives a fair catch signal and does not touch the ball, he cannot block an opponent. (Penalty—15 yards from the spot of foul, if block occurs in end zone—Safety)
7. One player may confer with the coaching staff on the sideline at the team area during a charged time-out. (last year he could talk to one coach only). Also, after the first player confers and leaves, another player may go to the sidelines to talk with the coaches.

Bowling Green Plays Football For 50 Seasons

By Don Cunningham
Athletic Department Business Manager

It was September, 1919. Young men were returning to the nation's campuses after serving in World War I. Bowling Green Normal was no exception. A year before there had been only six males on campus.

A meeting was called to find out just how much interest there was in having a football team. A turnout of about 20 men sent President Homer B. Williams scurrying for a coach and athletic director Fred G. Beyerman gathering some equipment and looking for opponents.

Bowling Green attorney Raymond Ladd, an all-Ohio standout at Denison, heard about the grid-iron move and offered to coach the group until a fulltime coach was appointed.

About 18 trusty souls showed up for the initial practice on the area now occupied by the new Education Building. Only about four of the candidates had ever played the game in high school.

Scrimmages were out of the question, so one side of the line would practice against the other side, while the backs worked on plays.

A week before the first game John Stitt, a former Western Reserve star, took over as head coach. Mr. Stitt is now retired and lives in Findlay.

The first game was against Toledo. Only the 11 starters played for the Normals and over 200 followers showed up at the field behind the Ridge Street elementary school. Toledo scored in the opening period and won 6-0.

Defiance was the second opponent and took a 12-0 victory over the Normals as Stitt continued to work on the offensive game.

In the final game of the season, Bowling Green entertained Michigan Normal, now Eastern Michigan, and just about came off with a victory. Michigan kicked a field goal in the first period. Bowling Green played them even until the final period when quarterback Dallas March, now a Bowling Green doctor, directed a march to the Michigan five yard line.

The Bowling Green athletic director became over-zealous in his encouragement to the team and was penalized 25 yards for coaching from the sidelines. The chance for Bowling Green's first touchdown died and a Michigan touchdown in the last minute gave the Ypsilanti team a 10-0 victory.

Looking back over Bowling Green's 50 years of football, it probably can be divided into four different eras. After the initial season, the Normals moved into regular play in the Northwestern Ohio Conference with Toledo, Defiance, Findlay and Bluffton.

Only two years after the start Bowling Green won its first conference championship and set all kinds of national records with a 151-0 victory over Findlay.

Coached by Earl Krieger, later a national authority on football rules and officiating, and captained by Franklin (Gus) Skibbie, now Bowling Green mayor, the 1921 team set the tempo which has followed Bowling Green teams through the years with over 40 winning seasons and a 64 per cent winning mark.

After five straight years of having a different coach, Warren E. Steller came to Bowling Green in 1924 and gave the Bowling Green program some stability. Steller directed his teams to three NWO championships, including an 18-game win streak, before the Falcons resigned from the NWO league to enter the Ohio Conference in 1932. The 1928 and 1930 captain Chet Chapman became Bowling Green's first all-Ohio player to give this era one of BG's best.

In the Ohio Conference until 1943, the Falcon football program was turned over to Michigander Harry Ockerman in 1935. The 1939 season was the best with a 6-1-1 record, a 7-6 loss to Capital the only mar on the slate. Tackle Ed Siminski was a standout in this era.

As World War II came on the horizon, Bob Whittaker, after a most successful career at Sandusky High School, took over at BG in 1941 and the Falcons played as an independent for the next 11 years. Whittaker had a fine 7-1-1 opening year mark but WW II caused most males to leave campus. However, a Navy V-12 program helped BG to keep a football program going with Navy and Marine cadets making up the rosters.

Whittaker had one of Bowling Green's finest teams in 1948, winning eight straight before tying John Carroll, 13-13, in the final game for the Ohio mythical co-championship. Stars of this era were Ed Wellner, Jack Woodland, Bob Schnelker and Fred Durig.

In the spring of 1952, Bowling Green joined the Mid-American Conference which brings us to the present era. With the upgrading of scheduling in the MAC, Doyt Perry moved into the BG picture in 1955 and for 10 years BG enjoyed fabulous success.

The former BG quarterback led his teams to five MAC championships and third place was the lowest standing. His 77-10-5 record was one of the nation's best. Such standouts as Kenny Russell, Bernie Casey, Don Lisbon, Bob Reynolds, Jay Cunningham and Jerry Jones started to carry the BG name into the lineups of NFL and AFL teams.

As Perry turned the reins over to his assistant Bob Gibson, who tied Miami for the 1965 MAC championship, the Bowling Green football facilities moved to the front with the completion of a new 23,272 seat stadium. Doyt L. Perry Field is the best in the MAC and one of the best among the NCAA institutions.

So, with the 1968 season, as Don Nehlen takes over, it might be termed the start of another era in BG football—the second part of Bowling Green's 100 years in football which they can write about in 2019.

TICKETS—The two people largely responsible for Bowling Green's ticket operation, Jan Barney and Margaret Miller, are pictured working in the ticket office that is located on the east side of Doyt L. Perry Field.

Football fans in four states, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Pennsylvania, will be able to listen to the 1968 football Falcons.

Paced by WFOB's seven-station network, Bowling Green State University football will be aired by 10 Ohio stations that can be heard throughout a four-state area.

This season, WFOB's network will include WONW, Defiance, WBCO, Bucyrus, WNOB, Newbury, WFRO, Fremont, WTOD, Toledo, and WERT, Van Wert. WTTO, Toledo, WAWR, Bowling Green, and WBGU, the Bowling Green State University station, will also be airing the Falcons' 1968 games.

Veteran broadcaster Dave Carr will be in front of the mike for the WFOB network while Don King will be handling the play-by-play work for WTTO. Jerry McCullen will be the main voice for WAWR while Terry Shaw will be broadcasting for WBGU.

The university's television station will be increasing the Falcons' coverage by taping Saturday's games and then replaying them at 6 p.m. Sunday evening. Tom Willett will be the voice of the Falcons for WBGU-TV.

Post-Game Party Gets Top Rating

by CAROLYN ANDERSEN

WHEN the referee throws both arms high into the air signaling "touchdown" for your favorite collegiate team, he also signals a time for celebration. And what better way to climax a big gridiron victory than by hosting a post-game party?

In order that the hostess may enjoy the excitement of the event to its fullest, the party should be a simple one. Plenty of good food can be prepared ahead of time so that only last minute warm-ups will be necessary when you get back from the stadium.

On game day, prepare one of the suggested main dishes, your own favorite gelatine salad, and have plenty of rolls, a simple dessert and the beverage of your choice on hand. Then, with your party fixin's ready, you'll still be on time for the opening kickoff and will be able to stay until the final gun.

First, try this idea for a chicken dish that is accented with crumbles of blue cheese and succulent mushrooms. The zesty concoction is served on top of crunchy chow mein noodles, or in pattie shells.

Melt one-quarter cup butter and stir in one-quarter cup flour. Gradually add one and three-quarters cups milk and one-half cup chicken broth (canned). Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add one-half teaspoon salt, pinch of sugar, one four-ounce can drained mushrooms, dash of monosodium glutamate, pepper, one teaspoon prepared horseradish, one and one-half cups blue cheese and two cups diced, cooked chicken. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until just heated through. Turn off heat and cover until time to reheat before serving your guests.

If you prefer a little more gourmet style main dish, try this recipe for Veal Elegante.

In large skillet, melt one-quarter cup butter or margarine and lightly brown two pounds veal cutlets, cut into one-inch pieces. Add one can (eight ounces) drained mushroom stems and pieces, and one clove minced garlic. Remove from skillet. Into drippings in skillet, stir two tablespoons flour, then one envelope onion soup mix; gradually add two cups water and one-quarter cup dry red wine. Cover and simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add meat, mushrooms, and two tablespoons chopped parsley and heat through. Turn off heat and leave covered until ready to heat at party time. Serve over noodles. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

Another fun idea is a Knife and Fork sandwich. The convenience of pre-cooked frozen foods keeps you from spending hours in the kitchen when the crowd gathers.

Slice one large loaf unsliced French bread lengthwise and spread bottom half with butter and prepared mustard. Heat in 350-degree oven for 10 or 15 minutes. Heat two packages frozen chili according to package directions. Spoon over buttered bread. Cut three slices processed cheese into several strips and place on top of chili. Top with strips of bacon and fresh onion rings. Cut into six or eight knife and fork sandwiches.

If you would like to plan something clever in the way of decorations for your "pigskin party," why not take a signal from the game ball itself and create a popcorn touchdown centerpiece?

To begin, mold a football out of five quarts popped popcorn and lace it with candy licorice strings. The popcorn can be molded the day before your party. A simple syrup coating can be made by combining two cups sugar, one and one-half cups water, one-half cup light corn syrup and one teaspoon vinegar, then cook to hard ball stage (250 degrees). Add one teaspoon vanilla and pour over popcorn. It will add delicious flavor and will help you shape your oval football.

Once the centerpiece has been molded place the licorice "strings" in lacing fashion and then wrap the popcorn in foil or saran until time to decorate the table. This way, it will keep fresh and crisp for eating.

Come party time, insert chocolate-coated bananas on skewers into the popcorn football. They're a frozen confection that everyone will enjoy. The bananas are cut in half, dipped in one package (six-ounce) melted semi-sweet chocolate chips and one tablespoon vegetable shortening and frozen until serving time. Easy to eat off the skewers, the bananas make an unusual and tasty sweet.

Whether your team scores a victory or not, your party is bound to be a winner.

KENT STATE EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

Kent State University, past the half-century mark, is in full momentum in its drive for excellence among the nation's foremost institutions of higher learning.

Third largest in the state, Kent serves more than 20,000 students on its 820-acre rolling campus in the heart of Northeastern Ohio. Students in the University's 10 academic centers and branches swell the overall figure to over 27,000.

Within the next several years, the campus student body will grow to 25,000 or more. To meet the academic demands of these added thousands and to carry on expanding research and service programs, trustees approved a development program that will total well over $100 million by the mid 1970's.

Almost $46 million in new buildings will be completed, are under construction or are scheduled to get under way this year. Of this amount, $41.7 million is earmarked for campus and includes classroom buildings, residence halls, a library and a new stadium, recreation facilities and health center. The other $4.2 is for buildings at Kent's Tuscarawas and Trumbull County branches.

Responsible for Kent's leadership is Dr. Robert I. White, sixth president of the University and a man who has devoted most of his 59 years to educational administration on all levels. He came to campus from the University of Chicago in 1946, first as dean of the College of Education and then as vice president for academic affairs before taking his present post in 1963.

Founded in 1910 as a normal school for teacher training, Kent now provides a broad educational program on both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Course work leads to seven bachelor and 10 masters degrees. Study for the doctor of philosophy degree is available in eight areas—biological sciences, chemistry, education, English, history, physics, psychology and physical education. Doctorate programs in geography and speech will begin this fall and programs in political science and mathematics have been approved by the board of trustees. Kent also offers a doctor of business administration degree.

The academic structure includes undergraduate colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, and Fine and Professional Arts, along with the Graduate School, Honors College and School of Library Science.

In the field of public services, Kent has a number of special programs. Its Center for Urban Regionalism is cataloging urban problems and serving as a clearing house for governmental bodies and planning agencies. Limnology and Fresh Water Studies Institutes are dealing with pollution problems, and the Bureau of Business and Economic Research is conducting studies to aid Ohio's business and industry. Kent's Liquid Crystals Institute, host to an international gathering of scientists this summer, is involved in basic research which could help industry and medical science's battle against cancer.

Kent's growing faculty numbers over 800, not including military science and air science instructors and administrative personnel. Teaching faculty at the University Branches number 86, at the University school 37, and on the Kent campus 750.

Kent's newly opened science complex (three buildings in foreground) will soon be dwarfed by the $9-million library under construction adjacent to the complex (center of picture). In fact, in about two years this scene will include a new student union, slated for the practice field and a portion of the present stadium and an addition to the gymnasium (upper left). Kent's new 29,586-seat stadium is scheduled to open in 1969.

What's so great about ROTC?

Check 'em.

☐ Great opportunity. You earn a commission while you earn your college degree. Graduate—you start at the top. Fulfill your military obligation as an Army officer. With officer's pay. Officer's privileges.

☐ Great advantages. Employers prefer a college graduate with service as an officer. Pay more to get him. Because he's a trained, experienced leader. Can handle heavier responsibilities.

☐ Great success. From the 5% of college men who had ROTC training have come 24% of our state governors, 28% of executives earning $100,000 to $325,000 per year, 10% of Congress, 15% of our ambassadors.

☐ Great guys. ROTC men are campus leaders—in ROTC, athletics, extracurricular activities. And they do better scholastically than non-ROTC students.

☐ Great extras. $50 per month in junior and senior years. Scholarships for outstanding students. Free flight training at over 125 colleges. Extra social activities—military balls, honor societies, bands, rifle teams.

Any way you look at it, there's a lot more going for you when you're in ROTC.

Your future, your decision . . .
choose Army ROTC.

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no-further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a REMINGTON electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives. +SPERRY RAND™

BGSU CELEBRATES 50 FOOTBALL SEASONS

FIRST FALCONS—Members of the first intercollegiate football team at Bowling Green State University in 1919 were honored Saturday, Sept. 28. They were introduced at half-time ceremonies and were guests of honor at a pre-game luncheon in the Holiday Inn. Those present for the event included (left to right) Dr. Dallas March of Bowling Green, quarterback; Clive Treece of Perrysburg, halfback; Ray Ladd of BG, who was the "unofficial" coach of the team; Dale Treece of Bloomdale, tackle and captain;

Dallas Lawrence of Findlay, guard; John Stitt of Findlay, the first BGSU football coach; Tom Noyes of Toledo, guard; Charles Clucas of Hamler, tackle; and Claitus Stough of BG, end and captain of the 1920 team. One-hundred forty persons attended the luncheon, as the old-timers remembered interesting points about that first team, which failed to win in three games. For this team's original photo see page 19.

RELAXED NOW—These five men went through a lot of pressure, and the later they came the more pressure they were under. They are all former football coaches at Bowling Green State University. Getting together at a pre-game luncheon at the Holiday Inn Saturday before the Falcon-Dayton game were (left to right) Doyt L. Perry, who coached the Falcons from 1955 to 1964, during which time Falcon teams won 77, lost 10 and tied five, and won five Mid-American Conference championships, is the school's current athletic director and after who the new football field is named; Ray Ladd, who started the whole thing of intercollegiate football at BGSU, and served in a non-official capacity until 1919, when John Stitt, center, was named the first coach and led the Falcons through three losses in the 1919 inaugural season; Bob Whittaker, who coached from 1941 to 1954, with a mark of 66-50-7, and led the Falcons in more games than any other mentor; and Bob Gibson, immediate past coach, who guided BG from 1965 to 1967, had a 19-9-0 record and won one Mid-Am co-championship.

We're proud...

that pHisoHex® has been selected as the antibacterial wash to be used by the U.S. Team for the 1968 Olympic Games!

A winning athlete takes special care of his skin. Above all, he protects it against bacteria that can cause infections and lead to missed practice sessions and games.

If you've ever tried to play with an infected blister on your heel or an abscess on your finger, then you know the role of healthy skin in sports. And that's why pHisoHex is an important part of an athlete's daily health routine. pHisoHex is America's leading liquid antibacterial skin cleanser in homes and in hospitals. Used regularly in place of soap, pHisoHex produces a superclean skin and builds up an invisible antibacterial film of hexa-chlorophene to protect your skin against germs between washings.

And if you have problem skin, pHisoHex is often valuable. The antibacterial film it leaves on your face will ward off blemish-infecting bacteria. pHisoHex also helps to soften and wash away blackheads.

Use pHisoHex, the skin cleanser of winning athletes.

Made by Winthrop Laboratories, 90 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016. Available in drugstores in 5 oz. and 16 oz. plastic squeeze bottles.

BGSU Inducts Three Hall of Famers

Alva Bachman and Bob Whittaker

Three new members have been elected to the Bowling Green State University Athletic Hall of Fame.

Athletic Director Doyt L. Perry, chairman of the honors committee, announced that Alva W. Bachman, Dewey B. Johnson and Robert H. Whittaker have been selected by the seven-man university-alumni committee.

After four years of naming six selections, each from a different era in the University's 53-year intercollegiate history, the Hall of Fame regulations now call for only three selections, covering the entire intercollegiate athletic history. The three Hall of Famers were formally inducted at the athletic-physical education department breakfast Homecoming morning. Biographical sketches of the new Hall of Famers follow:

ALVA W. BACHMAN, Bowling Green, Ohio . . . Longtime friend and contributor to Bowling Green athletics . . . Graduate of Oberlin College in 1918 with major in physical education . . . ## A Tradition . . .

For the first time since Bowling Green State University's athletic teams stopped being "The Normals" and became "Falcons" in 1927, a real live mascot will be on hand to represent them this fall.

The recent capture of a fearsome-looking prairie falcon near Snake River Canyon, Idaho, ended Bowling Green's three-year search for an authentic standard-bearer.

The bird is under the tutelage of Bowling Green junior John Blakeman, a qualified falconer who is teaching him the fine art of mascotry.

Mr. Blakeman has named the bird Prince Frederick because it's more dignified than "Freddy," the moniker of the University's comic mascot, who also will be showing off new feathers this fall as he goes through his series of crowd-pleasing stunts and pratfalls.

Freddy Falcon, Mr. Blakeman and BGSU coed Susan Berlekamp recently gathered at the Blakeman home in Fremont to admire Bowling Green University's new tradition.
